PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The only thing that can transform aging into active aging is exercise for elderly individuals. Regular exercise stimulates the individual both physically and mentally. It enhances the elderly individual's ability to balance, increases flexibility, and strengthens muscles. It prevents osteoporosis, shortness of breath, and forgetfulness. It reduces feelings of anxiety and depression. It improves sleep and overall quality of life.

Senior Fitness Equipments are designed to meet the needs of elderly individuals based on their age and mobility abilities.
